

PRIVACY POLICY FOR BLOOM ACADEMY AFRICA

1. Introduction

Welcome to Bloom Academy Africa. Throughout the website, the terms "we," "us," and "our" refer to Bloom Academy Africa. Bloom Academy Africa is committed to protecting the privacy, confidentiality, and security of the personal information entrusted to us by our learners, prospective learners, website visitors, instructors, partners, applicants, clients, and other individuals who interact with us.

This Privacy Policy explains how Bloom Academy Africa collects, uses, stores, discloses, transfers, and protects personal data when you:

- Visit or use our website;
- Create or use an account on our learning platform;
- Register for a course, programme, event or community;
- Purchase or access our educational services;
- Communicate with us;
- Participate in assessments, discussions, or other learning activities;
- Subscribe to our communications or marketing;
- Interact with our social media pages; or
- Otherwise, provide personal information to us.

This Privacy Policy should be read together with our Terms of Service and any other privacy notices that we may provide at the point where personal data is collected. Our processing of personal data is primarily governed by the Nigeria Data Protection Act, 2023 (NDP Act) and applicable regulations, directives and guidance issued by the Nigeria Data Protection Commission (NDPC), including the NDP Act General Application and Implementation Directive (GAID) 2025.

Where another applicable data-protection law applies to a particular individual or processing activity, we will comply with that law to the extent required. The NDP Act and GAID 2025 emphasize lawful, fair, and transparent processing, data minimisation, purpose limitation, security, accountability and respect for data-subject rights.

2. Who We Are

For purposes of applicable data-protection law, Bloom Academy Africa may act as a data controller where we determine why and how personal data is processed. Where we process personal data on behalf of another organisation, we may act as a data processor.

Our website is:

<https://bloomacademyafrica.com>

Our learning platform is:

<https://app.bloomacademyafrica.com>

If you have questions about this Privacy Policy or how we process your personal data, please contact us using the details provided in Section 18

3. What Is Personal Data?

“Personal data” means information relating to an identified or identifiable individual.

Depending on your relationship with Bloom Academy Africa, this may include:

- full name;
- username;
- email address;
- telephone number;
- residential or contact address;
- account and login information;
- educational and professional information;
- course registration information;
- assessment and learning-progress information;
- certificates and course-completion information;
- CV or employment information where voluntarily provided;
- payment and transaction information;
- information contained in enquiries or communications with us;
- photographs, videos or other media where provided or lawfully collected;
- information posted in discussion forums or other community features;
- device and browser information;

- IP address;
- approximate location information;
- website usage information;
- cookie and analytics information;
- marketing preferences; and
- other information you voluntarily provide to us.

We will only collect personal data that is reasonably necessary for a specific and legitimate purpose.

4. How We Collect Personal Data

We may collect personal data directly from you or through technology and third parties.

4.1 Information You Provide Directly

We may collect information when you:

- register for an account;
- enroll in a course;
- purchase a programme;
- complete a registration or application form;
- submit an assessment;
- participate in a discussion forum or learning community;
- contact our support team;
- subscribe to newsletters or marketing communications;
- request information;
- attend an event or webinar;
- provide feedback or complete a survey; or
- otherwise communicate with us.

4.2 Information Collected Automatically

When you access our website or learning platform, certain information may be collected automatically, including:

- IP address;
- browser type;
- operating system;

- device information;
- pages visited;
- links clicked;
- dates and times of visits;
- referring website;
- approximate geographic information;
- website and platform activity; and
- technical information relating to your interaction with our services.

This information helps us operate, secure, analyse and improve our website and learning platform.

4.3 Information Received From Third Parties

Where permitted by applicable law, we may receive information from service providers and other third parties, such as:

- payment processors;
- learning-platform providers;
- email and communication providers;
- analytics providers;
- authentication providers;
- advertising and marketing platforms;
- business partners; and
- organisations that engage Bloom Academy Africa to provide training.

We will only use such information for lawful and relevant purposes.

5. Personal Data of Learners

If you register for or participate in a Bloom Academy Africa programme, we may process information necessary to administer your learning experience.

This may include:

- registration details;
- course enrolment;
- attendance;
- learning progress;

- assessments and grades;
- certificates;
- instructor feedback;
- submitted assignments;
- participation in learning communities;
- communications relating to your course; and
- information necessary to provide learner support.

We may use this information to administer courses, evaluate learning progress, issue certificates, provide support, improve our programmes and maintain appropriate educational records.

6. Lawful Bases for Processing Personal Data

We will process personal data only where there is a lawful basis for doing so. Depending on the circumstances, our lawful bases may include:

6.1 Consent

We may process personal data where you have freely and knowingly provided consent. You may withdraw consent where processing is based on consent. Withdrawal will not affect processing that occurred lawfully before withdrawal.

6.2 Performance of a Contract

We may process information where necessary to:

- register you for a course;
- provide educational services;
- process payments;
- provide access to your account;
- issue certificates; or
- fulfil obligations under an agreement with you.

6.3 Legal or Regulatory Obligation

We may process personal data where necessary to comply with applicable legal, regulatory, tax, accounting or other obligations.

6.4 Legitimate Interests

Where permitted by law, we may process information for legitimate business purposes, provided that those interests do not override your fundamental privacy rights and interests.

Examples may include:

- improving our services;
- maintaining platform security;
- preventing fraud or abuse;
- conducting internal administration;
- analysing service performance; and
- communicating with existing customers about relevant services.

6.5 Protection of Vital Interests

In limited circumstances, personal data may be processed where necessary to protect the vital interests of an individual.

6.6 Public Interest or Other Lawful Bases

Where applicable, we may rely on another lawful basis recognised under the NDP Act or other applicable data-protection law.

7. How We Use Personal Data

We may use personal data to:

1. create and manage user accounts;
2. register learners for courses and programmes;
3. provide educational content and services;
4. process payments and transactions;
5. administer assessments and learning activities;
6. track learning progress and course completion;
7. issue and verify certificates;
8. provide customer and learner support;
9. communicate important service information;
10. send administrative notifications;
11. send newsletters, promotional communications and marketing where legally permitted;
12. manage events, webinars and programmes;
13. improve our courses, website and learning platform;

14. understand how users interact with our services;
15. conduct research, analysis and reporting using appropriate safeguards;
16. detect, prevent and investigate fraud, abuse and security incidents;
17. maintain the security and integrity of our systems;
18. comply with legal and regulatory obligations;
19. establish, exercise or defend legal claims; and
20. perform other purposes that are disclosed to you at the time your information is collected or are otherwise permitted by law.

We will not use personal data for an unrelated purpose that is incompatible with the purpose for which it was collected unless permitted by law or, where required, we obtain your consent.

8. Marketing Communications

We may send you information about Bloom Academy Africa's programmes, courses, events, resources and services. Where consent is required by applicable law, we will obtain it before sending marketing communications. You can unsubscribe from promotional email communications by using the unsubscribe option provided in the communication or by contacting us. Please note that even if you opt out of marketing communications, we may still send essential service communications, such as account notifications, security alerts, course information, payment confirmations and important changes to our services.

9. Cookies and Similar Technologies

Bloom Academy Africa may use cookies, pixels, web beacons and similar technologies on our website and learning platform.

These technologies may help us:

- keep you signed in;
- remember your preferences;
- maintain account security;
- understand website usage;
- analyse traffic and performance;
- improve the user experience;
- detect fraudulent or suspicious activity; and
- Where permitted, support relevant marketing and advertising activities.

Where required, non-essential cookies will only be activated after obtaining the appropriate consent. You may control cookies through your browser or any cookie-management tools we make available. Disabling certain cookies may affect the functionality of parts of our website or learning platform.

10. Sharing Personal Data With Third Parties

Bloom Academy Africa does not sell your personal data. We may disclose personal data to trusted third parties where necessary and lawful to operate our business and provide our services.

These may include:

- learning management system providers;
- cloud hosting and storage providers;
- payment processors;
- email and messaging service providers;
- customer-support platforms;
- analytics providers;
- cybersecurity providers;
- website and software service providers;
- professional advisers;
- auditors;
- instructors and authorised course personnel;
- business partners where necessary to provide a service;
- government, regulatory or law-enforcement authorities where legally required; and
- other processors or service providers engaged by us for legitimate business purposes.

Third-party service providers that process personal data on our behalf will be required, where applicable, to maintain appropriate confidentiality, security and data-protection obligations. We do not authorise third parties to use your personal data for purposes unrelated to the services they provide to Bloom Academy Africa unless such use is independently lawful and properly disclosed.

11. International Transfers of Personal Data

Some of our service providers, technology providers or business partners may process personal data outside Nigeria. Where personal data is transferred outside Nigeria, Bloom Academy Africa will comply with the applicable requirements of the NDP Act and GAID concerning cross-border data transfers.

Depending on the circumstances, an international transfer may be supported by an adequacy decision, an approved transfer mechanism, contractual or other lawful safeguards, consent, contractual necessity, legal claims, public interest, vital interests or another lawful basis recognised under applicable law.

We will take reasonable steps to ensure that personal data transferred internationally receives an appropriate level of protection. The NDPC confirms that Sections 41–43 of the NDP Act govern transfers of personal data to foreign countries and require appropriate protection for such transfers.

12. Data Security

We take reasonable technical, organisational and administrative measures to protect personal data against:

- unauthorised access;
- unlawful processing;
- accidental loss;
- destruction;
- alteration;
- unauthorised disclosure; and
- other forms of compromise.

Depending on the nature and sensitivity of the information, safeguards may include:

- access controls;
- authentication mechanisms;
- encryption or secure transmission technologies;
- secure hosting;
- monitoring and logging;
- backups;
- restricted employee access;
- confidentiality obligations;
- security procedures; and
- privacy and data-protection training.

However, no online system can be guaranteed to be completely secure. You should keep your passwords and account credentials confidential and notify us promptly if you believe your account has been compromised.

13. Data Breach Management

If Bloom Academy Africa becomes aware of a personal-data breach, we will assess the incident and take appropriate measures to contain, investigate, remediate and document it. Where notification is required under applicable law, we will notify the appropriate regulatory authority and affected data subjects within the applicable statutory or regulatory timelines.

We will not make an inaccurate or misleading statement regarding a data breach and will provide information reasonably necessary for affected individuals to understand the nature of the incident and steps they can take to protect themselves.

14. Data Retention

We will retain personal data only for as long as reasonably necessary to fulfil the purpose for which it was collected, unless a longer retention period is required or permitted by law.

Retention periods may depend on:

- the type of information;
- the purpose for processing;
- whether you maintain an active account;
- whether you are an active or former learner;
- legal, tax or accounting requirements;
- dispute-resolution requirements;
- security and fraud-prevention requirements; and
- our legitimate business needs.

Educational records, course-completion records and certificate-verification information may be retained for longer periods where reasonably necessary to verify participation, completion or certification and where permitted by law.

When personal data is no longer required, we will take reasonable steps to delete, anonymise or securely dispose of it.

15. Your Data Protection Rights

Subject to applicable law and any lawful limitations, you may have the right to:

1. Be informed about how your personal data is processed;
2. Access personal data we hold about you;
3. Request correction of inaccurate or incomplete information;
4. Request erasure of your personal data in appropriate circumstances;
5. Object to certain processing;
6. Request restriction of processing in applicable circumstances;
7. Request data portability where applicable;
8. Withdraw consent where processing is based on consent;
9. Object to or request human intervention regarding certain automated decision-making, where applicable; and
10. Lodge a complaint with the Nigeria Data Protection Commission where you believe your privacy rights have been infringed.

The NDPC identifies these rights under the NDP Act, including the rights to be informed, access, rectification, objection, restriction, portability, erasure and protection against certain automated decision-making.

16. How to Exercise Your Rights

To exercise a privacy right or make a data-protection request, contact us using the details in Section 18.

Your request should, where reasonably possible, include:

- your full name;
- the email address associated with your account;
- the nature of your request;
- the information or processing to which the request relates; and
- any other information reasonably necessary for us to verify your identity and process your request.

We may request additional information to verify your identity and protect against unauthorised access to personal data. We will respond to valid requests within the timeframe required by applicable law. The NDPC currently provides that data-subject access requests under Sections

34–38 of the NDP Act may include requests concerning access, processing information, retention periods, rectification, erasure and restriction.

17. Automated Decision-Making and Artificial Intelligence

Where Bloom Academy Africa uses automated systems, algorithms or artificial intelligence technologies that process personal data, we will seek to do so responsibly and in accordance with applicable data-protection requirements.

Where applicable law provides you with rights concerning automated decision-making, including the right to human intervention or to contest a decision, we will respect those rights. We will take appropriate steps to ensure that the use of automated technologies does not unlawfully infringe the rights and freedoms of data subjects.

Where a processing activity presents a significant risk to individuals' privacy, Bloom Academy Africa will consider whether a Data Privacy Impact Assessment (DPIA) or other risk assessment is required. The GAID 2025 expressly incorporates privacy-by-design and privacy-by-default considerations and provides for DPIAs in appropriate circumstances.

18. Children's Privacy

Bloom Academy Africa primarily provides services to adults and does not intentionally collect personal data from children in circumstances where such collection is prohibited by applicable law. Where our services are made available to individuals under 18, we will apply appropriate safeguards and obtain parental or guardian authorisation where required by applicable law.

If you believe that a child has provided personal data to us in circumstances where this was not permitted, please contact us so that we can investigate and take appropriate action.

19. Public Forums, Communities and User-Generated Content

Bloom Academy Africa may provide discussion forums, communities, comments, social features or other areas where users can share information. Information that you voluntarily post in a public or accessible community area may be visible to other users and may be copied or shared by them. You should therefore avoid publishing sensitive personal information, passwords, financial information or other information that you do not want others to see. Bloom Academy Africa cannot guarantee the privacy of information that you voluntarily make publicly available.

20. Third-Party Websites and Services

Our website, learning platform, emails, or other communications may contain links to websites, applications or services operated by third parties. These third-party services operate under their own privacy policies and terms. Bloom Academy Africa does not control the privacy practices of third-party websites and is not responsible for their policies or practices. We encourage you to review the privacy policy of any third-party service before providing personal information.

21. Data Accuracy

We take reasonable steps to ensure that personal data we hold is accurate, complete and up to date where necessary. You should notify us if your personal information changes or if you become aware that information we hold about you is inaccurate. Where appropriate, we will correct or update inaccurate information.

22. Confidentiality and Employee Access

Access to personal data within Bloom Academy Africa will be limited to individuals who require the information for legitimate business, educational, operational, administrative or legal purposes. Employees, contractors, instructors and authorised service providers may be subject to confidentiality and data-protection obligations. Personal data should not be accessed, copied, disclosed or processed for purposes unrelated to the individual's authorised responsibilities.

23. Data Protection Governance

Bloom Academy Africa will maintain appropriate policies, procedures and organisational measures designed to support compliance with applicable data-protection requirements. Where required by applicable law, we will designate an appropriate Data Protection Officer or responsible privacy function and maintain appropriate records, assessments, contracts, policies and controls.

Where applicable, we will also comply with NDPC requirements concerning registration, compliance audits, data-protection governance and other regulatory obligations. The GAID 2025 introduced specific compliance requirements concerning data controllers and processors, including governance, DPO responsibilities and compliance audit obligations.

24. Data Protection Complaints and Grievance Redress

We encourage you to contact Bloom Academy Africa first if you have a concern about the way we process your personal data. We will investigate reasonable privacy complaints and take appropriate steps to resolve them. Where you are not satisfied with our response, or where applicable law permits or requires it, you may lodge a complaint with the Nigeria Data Protection Commission (NDPC). The GAID 2025 includes mechanisms intended to strengthen grievance redress and provide data subjects with avenues for seeking remedies for privacy violations.

25. Changes to This Privacy Policy

We may update this Privacy Policy from time to time to reflect:

- changes in our services;
- changes in our technology;
- changes in how we process personal data;
- changes in applicable laws or regulatory requirements; or
- improvements to our privacy practices.

When we make material changes, we will take reasonable steps to notify users through our website, learning platform, email or other appropriate communication channels.

26. Contact Us

If you have questions, concerns or requests relating to this Privacy Policy or your personal data, please contact Bloom Academy Africa:

Bloom Academy Africa

Telephone: 0708 627 8644

Address: Plot 91A, 43 Cres, Gwarinpa Estate, Gwarinpa 901108, Federal Capital Territory

For privacy-related requests, please clearly state “Data Protection Request” in the subject line of your email.

27. Regulatory Authority

For matters relating to data protection in Nigeria, the relevant supervisory authority is the Nigeria Data Protection Commission (NDPC). Bloom Academy Africa recognises the role of the NDPC as Nigeria's data-protection supervisory authority.

28. Applicable Law

This Privacy Policy is intended to operate in accordance with applicable laws and regulations governing personal data protection and privacy. For processing subject to Nigerian law, this includes the Nigeria Data Protection Act, 2023, the NDP Act General Application and Implementation Directive (GAID) 2025, and other applicable regulatory requirements issued by the Nigeria Data Protection Commission. Where another mandatory data-protection law applies to particular processing activities, Bloom Academy Africa will comply with the applicable requirements to the extent required by law.
